E. STANLEY KROENKE

OWNER, KROENKE SPORTS ENTERPRISES, LLC.

Mr. E. Stanley Kroenke was officially introduced as the owner of the Denver Nuggets, Colorado Avalanche and Pepsi Center on July 6, 2000.

One of the top owners in professional sports, his commitment to excellence has been obvious inside and outside of the Pepsi Center since his arrival. Substantial amounts have been invested in improvements and additional attractions to enhance the entertainment experience for every visitor to the property.

Kroenke Sports Enterprises, Mr. Kroenke's Denver based company, acquired the Colorado Rapids of Major League Soccer in 2004, the Colorado Mammoth of the National Lacrosse League, a one-third interest in the Colorado Crush of the Arena Football League in 2002, and is instrumental in hosting the Centrix Financial Grand Prix of Denver - all contributing to the broad sporting tastes of Rocky Mountain sports fans. In addition, he and his organization has been instrumental in bringing the sports world's biggest stars to Denver. The Pepsi Center played host to the 2001 NHL All-Star Game, the 2004 National Lacrosse League All-Star Game and the 2005 NBA All-Star Game.

Another effort to enhance the fan experience is the Blue Sky Grill restaurant located on the ground floor of the Pepsi Center, which offers patrons and the general public alike an opportunity to enjoy quality fare in a mountain lodge setting It immediately became "the destination" before and after every event in the arena.

Under Mr. Kroenke's direction, Kroenke Sports Enterprises recently launched two of the company's most ambitious projects to date. In September, 2004, Altitude Sports & Entertainment, a 24-hour regional television network created by the company, began operation, becoming the new television home for the Nuggets, Avalanche, Mammoth and Rapids. Altitude also features other professional, collegiate and high school sporting events, as well as outdoors and lifestyle programming, entertainment and community programming from throughout the Rocky Mountain West.

On Sept. 28, 2005, Kroenke Sports Enterprises broke grounds on a state-of-the-art soccer facility, which is part of a 917 acre, mixed-use development in Commerce City, Colorado. The Prairie Gateway project will include a 20,000 seat soccer stadium and over 20 other fields for youth soccer and lacrosse. Prairie Gateway will also devote 200 acres of this project for retail development and wildlife conservation areas. The project is expected to create at least 500 jobs for the community.

Mr. Kroenke and his management group also guided the development of the Universal Lending Pavilion, a 5,500-seat outdoor amphitheatre on the Pepsi Center grounds that hosts over 20 events in the summer months. In 2002 the Paramount Theater was purchased, a historic landmark in nearby downtown. These unique entertainment facilities provide the public with access to numerous musical and cultural events in beautiful, intimate settings.

Mr. Kroenke and his organization's enthusiasm and vision ensure that Denver will continue to be the top entertainment destination in the Rocky Mountain region for generations to come. The Rocky Mountain News named Mr. Kroenke the second-most significant person in the Denver arts and entertainment community, saying "No other person entertains more people more often."

Kroenke Sports Enterprises' first priority has been the Colorado community. More than $15 million in contributions have been made to Colorado charities through the Denver Nuggets and Colorado Avalanche Community Funds and funds of the McCormick Tribune Foundation since 2000. The Colorado Avalanche and Denver Nuggets Community Funds, in partnership with The McCormick Tribune Foundation, raised more than $4 million in just 10 days for the victims of Hurricane Katrina.

Kroenke Sports Enterprises' dedication to success has been clearly evidenced of late, with each of its teams qualifying for the playoffs the past two seasons. The Avalanche have won three division titles since 2000-01 and set an NHL record in '02-03 with their ninth-straight division crown. They captured their second Stanley Cup Championship in June 2001, defeating the New Jersey Devils in a dramatic seven-game series. The Nuggets, who are one of the up-and-coming teams in the NBA, have made two-consecutive playoff appearances and posted the fourth-best record in franchise history (49-33) a year ago. They finished the season with a 25-4 run, which stands as the fifth-best post All-Star break record in NBA history. In 2005, the Crush was crowned champions of the Arena Football League.

Historically no stranger to championships, Mr. Kroenke is also Vice-Chairman and co-owner of the 2000 Super Bowl Champion St. Louis Rams. A native Missourian, his emergence as an owner of the Rams was critical in the effort to return professional football to St. Louis in 1995.

Mr. Kroenke is Chairman and Owner of The Kroenke Group, a private real estate investment and development company with properties located throughout the United States and Canada, including the Rocky Mountain region. Over the past three decades, he has built a reputation as one of the nation's leading developers of shopping centers and apartment buildings.

Mr. Kroenke's current and former board and trustee memberships include Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., Central Bank Holding Company, Boone County National Bank, Community Investments Partnership of St. Louis, the College of the Ozarks, and the Missouri Basketball Hall of Fame. He is a member of St. Louis's Civic Progress, which provides support and leadership for various community improvements that promote economic development, education and quality of life.

Mr. Kroenke holds undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Missouri.

KIKI VANDEWEGHE

GENERAL MANAGER

Success has followed Nuggets General Manager Kiki Vandeweghe at every stop along his illustrious career. In college, he led the UCLA Bruins to the NCAA title game as senior. In the pros, the two-time All-Star's teams made the playoffs in 12 of his 13 seasons. Following his retirement, he became one of the top instructors in basketball. Now, he is shaping a basketball resurgence in Denver.

Vandeweghe, 47, is in his fifth season as general manager of the Nuggets after being named to the post on Aug. 9, 2001. With Denver, he is involved in every facet of the team's operation from making trades to working out players on the court. He has been innovative in his approach to the job, masterminding the team's open tryouts, a Goodwill Tour of military bases in Europe in 2002 and the uniform and color update for the Nuggets in the summer of 2003.

Since coming back to Denver, Vandeweghe has drastically reshaped the look and future of the Nuggets. He engineered numerous trades during that time, which have shifted the Nuggets from a struggling team with no salary cap flexibility, to a young, athletic squad, which has qualified for the playoffs in back-to-back seasons for the first time since the mid '90s.

In the summer of 2004, he was able to acquire All-Star forward Kenyon Martin from the New Jersey Nets without giving up a core player. He did so by taking advantage of a surplus of extra first round draft choices he had compiled through various trades over the years. He also re-signed center Marcus Camby and acquired several players that played key roles for the Nuggets this past season, including Greg Buckner, Eduardo Najera, Wesley Person and Bryon Russell. The Nuggets won 49 games (their fourth-most ever), posted back-to-back winning seasons for the first time since the late '80s and made the playoffs in consecutive years for the first time since 1994 and '95.

In the summer of 2003, Vandeweghe lured free agents Andre Miller, Jon Barry, Earl Boykins and Voshon Lenard to Denver and selected reigning Final Four MVP Carmelo Anthony with the third pick in the draft. Teamed with All-Rookie First Team forward Nenê and veteran Marcus Camby - both of whom Vandeweghe acquired in a draft-day deal from New York in 2002 - the Nuggets improved their win total by 26 games and reached the postseason for the first time since 1995. The 26-game improvement was the most ever by a team that won less than 20 games the year before. His club also became the first in the history of the NBA (since going to an 82-game schedule in 1976) to go from less than 20 wins to the playoffs the next year.

Not only has Vandeweghe changed the face of the roster, but he has done the same with the Nuggets facilities. Prior to the '02-03 season, Vandeweghe spearheaded the renovation of the Nuggets locker room, relocated and expanded the weight room to include more state-of-the-art equipment, relocated and upgraded the spacious players' lounge and installed a video coaching theater.

Prior to joining the Nuggets, Vandeweghe spent two seasons as an assistant coach and director of player development for the Dallas Mavericks. With the help of his tutelage, Dirk Nowitzki blossomed into a superstar and helped lead Dallas to its first playoff appearance in more than a decade.

No stranger to Nuggets fans, Vandeweghe began his 13-year NBA career with Denver in 1980. Originally selected with the 11th overall pick of the '80 NBA Draft by Dallas, he was acquired on Dec. 3, 1980 and jumped quickly into the Nuggets record book as one of the team's most prolific scorers.

In 293 career games with the Nuggets, Vandeweghe averaged 23.3 ppg while shooting .541 from the field and .857 from the free throw line. He was twice selected to the NBA All-Star team ('83 and '84) and ranks prominently in several single-season and career categories.

Vandeweghe has built a reputation as one of the top instructors in basketball and has worked with countless NBA players developing their skills. He has been a featured speaker at Pete Newell's Big Man camp every summer since its inception 27 years ago. In addition, he has worked with some of Europe's brightest up-and-coming stars at the Reebok Euro Big Man Camp in Italy. His work with current NBA players such as Nowitzki, Martin and Austin Croshere has been well chronicled and his expertise in shooting is validated by his career .525 field goal percentage. He continues his hands-on instruction with Nuggets players every day. In addition, he, along with Athletic Trainer Jim Gillen and Assistant Coach/Strength & Conditioning Steve Hess, introduced the players to martial arts and yoga and makes this a part of their regiment.

His athletic prowess can be traced directly to his family genes - his father, Dr. Ernest Vandeweghe, played for the New York Knicks from '49-56 after earning All-America honors at Colgate; his mother, Colleen, was a former Miss America and her brother, Melvin Hutchins, played from '51-58 in the NBA and was a four-time All Star. His second cousin, Al, is a member of the International Swimming Hall of Fame and earned a silver medal in the 100-meter backstroke at the '36 Olympics.

Kiki's siblings were also world-class athletes: one sister, Tauna, was a national backstroke champion and two-time Olympian; his brother, Bruk, earned a bronze medal in two-man beach volleyball at the '94 Goodwill Games. His other sister, Heather, is a physician at UCLA.

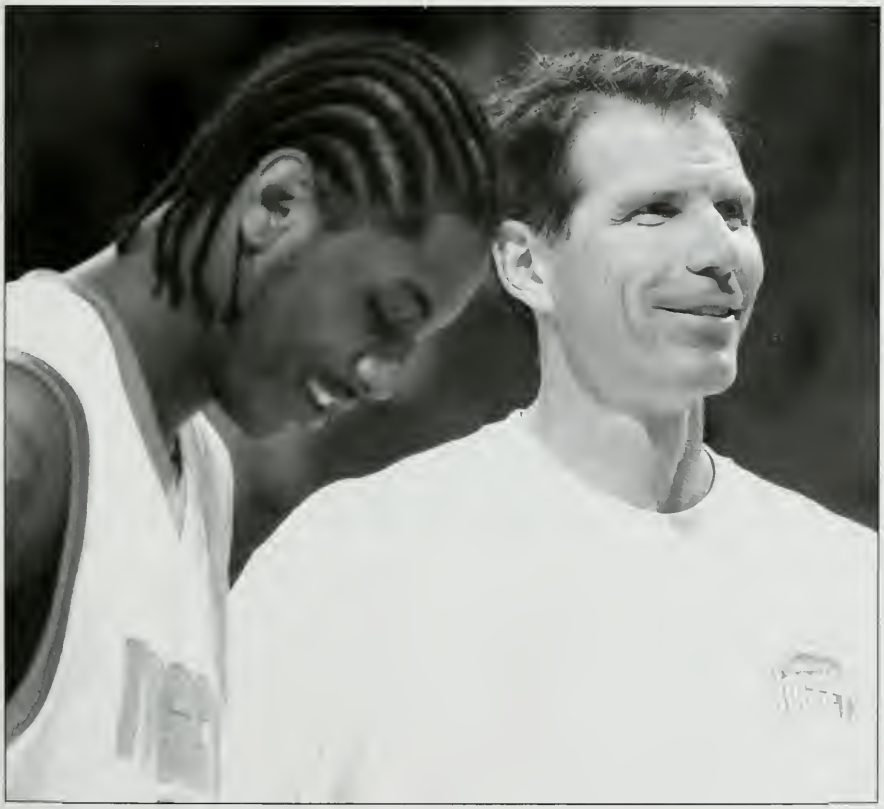
Ernest Maurice Vandeweghe III was born Aug. 1, 1958, in Weisbaden, Germany, where his father was stationed as an Air Force physician. His nickname, Kiki, was given to him early in childhood and is German for curly headed.

Vandeweghe's appreciation for the military is still evident today. In 2002, he spearheaded the Nuggets Goodwill Tour, which visited U.S. military stationed in Naples, Italy, Incirlik, Turkey and Sarajevo and Tuzla, Bosnia-Herzegovina. He also continues to donate tickets to every home game to members of the Air Force in Colorado Springs. In recognition of his work in the international community, the University of Denver bestowed him with their 2004 International Bridge Builders Award.

A native of Los Angeles, Vandeweghe attended UCLA from '76-80 and led the Bruins to the national title game his senior season under head coach Larry Brown. He received his degree in economics and was a Rhodes Scholar finalist.

Following retirement from the NBA, Vandeweghe formed a financial planning business and ran basketball clinics throughout the United States and Europe.

Vandeweghe and his wife Peggy, who earned an engineering degree from Louisiana State University, have one son, Ernest Maurice IV, born in 2002.



DAVID FREDMAN

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Assistant General Manager David Fredman is in his fifth year with the Nuggets and brings a wealth of experience to the team. He assists General Manager Kiki Vandeweghe with the day-to-day operations of the Nuggets basketball department.

During his tenure, Denver has engineered numerous personnel moves which have shifted the Nuggets from a struggling team with no salary cap flexibility, to one of the up-and-coming teams in the NBA. The Nuggets won 49 games in 2004-05, the fourth-most since the team joined the NBA in 1976. In 2003-04, the Nuggets posted the sixth-biggest turnaround in NBA history, improving their win total by 26 games and reaching the playoffs for the first time since 1995.

Before joining the Nuggets, Fredman spent the previous 27 years with the Utah Jazz franchise and was one of the last two remaining members of the original staff from the New Orleans Jazz. He worked directly in basketball operations for the Jazz for the previous 14 seasons, serving as Director of Scouting/Assistant Coach for the last two. In that capacity, he assisted with draft preparation, contract negotiations and the evaluation of professional, collegiate and international players for Vice President of Basketball Operations Kevin O'Connor and previously working under for Scott Layden, Jerry Sloan and Frank Layden.

From 1987-99, Fredman was an assistant coach and scout for the club, focusing on advance scouting and game preparation. During his tenure in Utah, the Jazz went to the playoffs 18-straight times, captured six Midwest Division titles and made two trips to the NBA Finals, falling to the Bulls in 1997 and '98.

The 52-year-old Fredman began working for the expansion New Orleans Jazz as an intern in public relations and ticket sales. He later served as the franchise's director of public relations, marketing and broadcasting before being promoted to the basketball side by Frank Layden.

He provided color commentary on Jazz television network broadcasts (1980-83), oversaw the Jazz's operations in Las Vegas when the team played 11 games there in 1983-84, assembled a radio network, produced games on television, co-hosted a Jazz radio talk show and sold advertising.

The native of Marion, Ill., attended Logan Junior College (Carterville, Ill.) and Southern Illinois University before earning a bachelor's degree in communications from Loyola University (New Orleans, La.). He and his wife, Sheila, are the parents of two children - daughter Lauren, 18, who is studying in Israel and son Michael, 14, who attends Cherry Creek High School.

Fredman enjoys reading, traveling, playing golf and fishing in his native Southern Illinois in his spare time.

JEFF WELTMAN

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Jeff Weltman begins his fifth season with the Nuggets after being named assistant general manager on Sept. 27, 2001.

During his tenure, Denver has engineered personnel moves which have shifted the Nuggets from a struggling team with no salary cap flexibility, to one of the up-and-coming teams in the NBA. The Nuggets won 49 games in 2004-05, the fourth-most since the team joined the NBA in 1976. In 2003-04, the Nuggets posted the sixth-biggest turnaround in NBA history, improving their win total by 26 games and reaching the playoffs for the first time since 1995.

Weltman came to the Nuggets following 13 seasons with the Los Angeles Clippers, where he had served as director of player personnel since 1994. In this role, Weltman oversaw the Clippers scouting department and contributed to many other aspects of the club's day-to-day basketball operations.

With Weltman's help, the Clippers formed one of the most talented young teams in the NBA by drafting Lamar Odom, Michael Olowokandi, Darius Miles and Quentin Richardson and acquiring Elton Brand, Keyon Dooling, Jeff McInnis and Corey Maggette. In his last year, the Clippers improved their win total by 16 - the biggest turnaround in the league.

The 40-year-old New York native originally joined the club as video coordinator in 1988 and was immediately elevated to a scouting position.

Weltman graduated from Oberlin College in Oberlin, Ohio in 1987. He and his wife Alexis enjoy living in Denver, where they are strong supporters of Cleo Parker Robinson Dance, Sewall Development Center, Judith Ann Griese Foundation and Judi's House. In May, they became the proud parents of twin daughters Lucy and J.J.

MARK WARKENTIEN

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Mark Warkentien joined the Nuggets in the summer of 2005 and begins his first season as Director of Player Personnel. Warkentien has spent the last 14 seasons in the NBA working in various capacities in the front office.

Warkentien spent the 2004-05 season with the Cleveland Cavaliers as Director of Player Personnel. Before moving to Cleveland, he spent 10 years with the Portland Trail Blazers. In '03-04, he served as Director of Player Personnel after spending the previous five seasons as Assistant General Manager. He spent his first season in Portland as a scout followed by three seasons as the team's Director of Scouting.

He began his NBA career with the Seattle SuperSonics, serving as a scout from 1991-94.

Prior to joining the Blazers, he worked for 11 years in basketball operations at the University of Nevada - Las Vegas.

At UNLV, Warkentien served as an assistant coach/recruiting coordinator as well as assistant athletic director. He helped build UNLV's team that went on to win the NCAA Championship in 1990.

He began his coaching career at Riverside City College and at Saddleback College before taking the reins of the women's program at UC-Riverside. Warkentien then returned to his alma mater, Cal-State Fullerton, as an assistant coach for two seasons. He spent one season on the coaching staff at UC-Irvine before joining Jerry Tarkanian's staff at UNLV.

Warkentien, 52, is a 1976 graduate of Cal-State Fullerton and a native of Huntington, Ind. He and his wife, Maureen, have two daughters, Kreigh and Aubrie.

GEORGE KARL

HEAD COACH

NBA coaching legend George Karl was introduced as the 19th head coach in Nuggets history on Jan. 27, 2005 and subsequently engineered one of the greatest turnarounds in NBA history.

When he assumed head coaching duties, the Nuggets were 17-25 and stood in 11th place in the Western Conference - a full six games out of the playoffs. Karl led the Nuggets to a 32-8 (.800) record and a seventh seed in the playoffs. His winning percentage was the best in NBA history for a coach that took over in the middle of the season (minimum 20 games). The Nuggets went 25-4 after the All-Star break, the fifth-best post-All-Star break record ever in the NBA.

Karl was named Western Conference Coach of the Month for February and March and finished fifth in voting for NBA Coach of the Year, receiving 10 first place votes. Karl has earned nine Coach of the Month honors tying Pat Riley and Phil Jackson for most in NBA history.

The 13th-winningest coach in NBA annals, Karl has amassed 740 wins in his 17 seasons in the NBA. In fact, of the 12 men ahead of him on the all-time wins list, only four: Phil Jackson, Red Auerbach, Pat Riley and Jerry Sloan have a better winning percentage. On March 22, 2003, he recorded his 700th career win in just 1,195 games. Only five coaches (Jackson, Riley, Auerbach, Sloan and Don Nelson) reached 700 wins in fewer games.

Karl has not posted a losing record in 13-straight seasons. His teams have captured five division titles and have qualified for the playoffs 14 times. He has led three teams to the conference finals, including the 1996 Seattle SuperSonics, who lost in six games to the Chicago Bulls in the NBA Finals.

Prior to joining the Nuggets, Karl served as head coach for the Milwaukee Bucks (1998-03), the SuperSonics (1991-98), the Golden State Warriors (1986-88) and the Cleveland Cavaliers (1984-86), compiling a record of 708-499 (.587).

Karl had a well-earned reputation for quickly turning teams around before working his magic in Denver. In his first year in Cleveland, he led the Cavaliers to a 12-game improvement over the previous year and their first trip to the playoffs in seven years. In his first year at Golden State, the Warriors made a 12-game improvement and not only made the postseason for the first time in nine years, but advanced to the conference semifinals. In his debut in Seattle, he inherited a 20-20 club and guided them to a 27-15 record the rest of the year. In Milwaukee, the Bucks winning percentage improved from .439 to .560 in his first year (which was the lockout-shortened '99-00 campaign) and they made the playoffs for the first time in seven years.

During Karl's tenure in Seattle, the Sonics averaged 59 wins per season and won 357 games - second only to Chicago during that span. He led the Sonics to three 60-win season, had just one losing month and never had a losing streak longer than three games. Only three coaches have led their teams to more 60-win seasons in NBA history: Pat Riley (seven), Phil Jackson (six) and K.C. Jones (four).

In five seasons in Milwaukee, Karl led the Bucks to a record of 205-173 and four playoff berths, highlighted in 2001 by the team's first trip to the conference finals since 1986.

Karl broke into coaching as an assistant with the San Antonio Spurs (ABA) under current assistant coach Doug Moe. He landed his first head coaching position with the Montana Golden Nuggets of the CBA in 1980 and went on to become one of the most successful coaches in that league's history. A three-time CBA Coach of the Year (1981, '83 and '91), Karl compiled a 176-66 (.727) record in five CBA seasons. He led the Albany Patroons to a league record 50-6 mark in 1990-91, including a perfect 28-0 at home. He also coached two years in Spain for Real Madrid.

In 2001, Karl was selected as the head coach of USA Basketball's 2002 World Championship Team that competed in the 2002 FIBA World Basketball Championships in Indianapolis.

After coaching in Milwaukee, Karl served as an NBA analyst for ESPN.

As a player, Karl averaged 6.5 ppg and 3.0 apg over 264 games and five seasons between the ABA and NBA. He attended the University of North Carolina, where as a junior, he helped lead the Tar Heels to the 1972 NCAA Final Four, and during his sophomore season (1970-71) helped UNC to an NIT title.

Although drafted by the New York Knicks in the fourth round of the 1973 NBA Draft, he signed with the San Antonio Spurs of the ABA.

Karl has three children - daughters Kelci and Kaci Grace and son Coby, a guard at Boise State University.

DOUG MOE

ASSISTANT COACH

Colorful. Legend. Winner. All three accurately describe Doug Moe, the winningest coach in Denver Nuggets history, who returns for his second season on the bench as an assistant to George Karl.

After spending two-plus seasons as a assistant coach, Moe joined Karl - his former player - on the sidelines following the All-Star break last year. The Nuggets then won 25 of their next 29 games to earn the fifth-best post All-Star break mark in NBA history.

From 1980-90, Moe compiled a 432-357 (.548) record and led the Nuggets to the postseason nine-straight years - advancing as far as the Western Conference Finals in 1985. He guided the Nuggets to two Midwest Division titles ('84-85 and '87-88) and a franchise-record 54 wins in 1987-88. He was named NBA Coach of the Year that same year. Under Moe's direction, the Nuggets high-octane offense led the league in scoring in six of his 10 seasons in Denver.

Affectionately known as the "Big Stiff", Moe began his career with the Nuggets in the ABA as an assistant coach to his collegiate and pro teammate, Larry Brown from 1974-76. During those two seasons, the Nuggets were 125-43 (.744). They advanced to the ABA Finals in 1976, but lost to the New York Nets in six games.

Moe has also served as a head coach for the San Antonio Spurs (1976-80) and Philadelphia 76ers (1992-93). In 1979, he led the Spurs to the conference finals. His overall NBA head coaching ledger stands at 628-529 (.543) and his wins are the 17th-most in NBA history.

The Brooklyn, N.Y. native was a two-time All-American at the University of North Carolina. He garnered ABA All-Star honors three times in an injury-shortened five-year professional playing career.

Moe is married to the woman he fondly calls, "Big Jane", and the couple has two sons, David and Doug Jr.

SCOTT BROOKS

ASSISTANT COACH

Longtime NBA veteran Scott Brooks begins his third season as an assistant coach with the Nuggets. With his assistance, the Nuggets have qualified for the playoffs in each of his first two seasons.

Brooks has coached the Nuggets summer league team each of the last two years, compiling a 9-6 record. He also served as a head coach at the NBA Predraft Camp in Chicago in 2004.

Brooks, 40, enjoyed an 11-year (1988-99) playing career in the NBA. He appeared in 680 regular season games with Philadelphia, Minnesota, Houston, Dallas, New York and Cleveland, averaging 4.9 ppg and 2.4 apg. He was a marksman from three-point range, shooting .372 (287-771) for his career. He also played one year in the CBA and was named to the All-Rookie team in 1988.

Brooks' teams advanced to the postseason in six of his 10 NBA seasons. In 1994, he was a member NBA Champion Houston Rockets.

In 2000, Brooks was a player/assistant coach with the Los Angeles Stars of the ABA. The following season, he served as the head coach of the Southern California Surf of the ABA, leading them to a 23-14 record.

The California native began his collegiate career at San Joaquin Delta College in his home state. He then played one year at Texas Christian University before spending his last two at UC-Irvine, where he averaged 23.8 ppg as a senior.

Brooks and his wife, Sherry, are the parents of two children: son Chance (9) and daughter Lexi (5).

ADRIAN DANTLEY

ASSISTANT COACH

NBA legend Adrian Dantley is in his third season as an assistant coach with the Nuggets. Fundamentally sound as a player, Dantley now works with Nuggets players to refine their skills in the post.

One of the most prolific scorers in NBA history, Dantley racked up 23,177 points during his 15-year career, placing him 17th in NBA annals. Despite being labeled an "undersized" forward at 6-5, he led the league in scoring in 1980-81 and '83-84, averaging 30.7 ppg and 30.6 ppg respectively. In fact, he averaged better than 30.0 ppg in four-straight seasons from 1980-84 and no fewer than 26.6 ppg from 1980-87. He holds the Nuggets opponent record for points in a game dropping 55 in Utah on Feb. 6, 1981.

Dantley, 49, appeared in 73 postseason games, averaging 21.3 ppg in those contests. He reached the NBA Finals in 1988, but his Pistons lost the L.A. Lakers in seven games.

The six-time All-Star shot a remarkable .540 from the field for his career. He was perhaps better than anyone at his position at drawing fouls and led the league in free-throws made five times, while shooting .818 for his career. In fact, he shares the NBA record for free-throws made in a game with 28 (vs. Houston, Jan. 4, 1984).

Dantley's many basketball accomplishments include the NBA Rookie of the Year Award in 1977 and the NBA Comeback Player of the Year Award in '84. He earned All-NBA Second Team honors in '81 and '84 and was an Olympic gold medalist in '76.

Following a standout career at Notre Dame, where he was a First Team All-America selection in '75 and '76, Dantley was drafted by the Buffalo Braves after his junior season with the sixth overall pick in the 1976 NBA Draft. He went on to play for the Pacers, Lakers, Jazz, Pistons, Mavericks and Bucks.

Born in Washington D.C., Dantley starred at DeMatha High School in Hyattsville, Md. for legendary coach Morgan Wooten. He entered the coaching ranks as an assistant at Towson University from 1993-96. Before moving to Denver, he spent the previous two years as a studio analyst during Washington Wizards telecasts.

Dantley and his wife, Dinitri, have three children - son Cameron, who plays football at the Syracuse University and daughters Kalani and Kayla.

TIM GRGURICH

ASSISTANT COACH

Longtime NBA veteran and highly respected assistant coach Tim Grgurich begins his first season with the Nuggets. Grgurich (GUR-gur-ich) brings 14 years of NBA experience to the Nuggets bench, including eight with Head Coach George Karl.

Before joining the Nuggets, Grgurich served as an assistant in Portland (2004-05; '98-01), Phoenix ('02-04), Milwaukee ('01-02) and Seattle ('91-98).

Karl and Grgurich have a long history of success together. Grgurich was a member of Karl's staff in both Milwaukee and Seattle and helped lead the Sonics to four division titles and a berth in the 1996 NBA Finals.

The Trail Blazers also won a division crown with Grgurich on staff in '98-99 and reached the Western Conference Finals twice.

Grgurich spent 12 years as an assistant coach under Jerry Tarkanian at the University of Nevada-Las Vegas, preparing emerging NBA standouts such as Larry Johnson, Stacey Augmon, Greg Anthony, Armen Gilliam and Sidney Green. The Runnin' Rebels won the 1990 NCAA Championship and made three Final Four appearances while he was part of the program.

His coaching career began at his alma mater, the University of Pittsburgh, where he also was a three-year letterman in both basketball and baseball. He began as an assistant and guided the freshman team to a 99-33 mark before assuming head coaching duties in 1975. Over five seasons, Pitt was 71-70 and made one trip to the NIT. As a player, he helped the Panthers to an NCAA and NIT tournament bid.

Grgurich, who earned a physical education degree from Pittsburgh. He and his wife Kathy have two daughters, Jennifer and Suzanne.

JOHN WELCH

ASSISTANT COACH/PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

John Welch begins his first season with the Nuggets as an assistant coach/player development. Welch joins the Nuggets after two seasons as an assistant coach/workout coach for the Memphis Grizzlies. He assists Nuggets Head Coach George Karl with player development by focusing on individual teaching, fundamental skills and individual workouts before practices and games.

Welch joined the Grizzlies after seven seasons as an assistant coach at Fresno State, serving under head coach Jerry Tarkanian, one of the winningest coaches in NCAA history. Welch joined Fresno State in 1995 and helped the Bulldogs to two consecutive NCAA tournament appearances, six consecutive 20-win seasons and seven straight postseason appearances. In 2000-01, he helped the Bulldogs to a 26-7 record, the second-most wins in school history; a school-record tying 13-game winning streak; and a Top 25 ranking during the second half of the season.

Welch, began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Nevada - Las Vegas for three years including the 1987 season when the UNLV Rebels advanced to the NCAA Final Four. When the Rebels' season ended, Welch also served as a player and coach in the New Zealand Professional Basketball League from 1986-89. Welch returned to the collegiate ranks as an assistant coach at Long Beach State where he helped Head Coach Seth Greenburg guide the 49ers to a two-year record of 37-20 and a berth in the 1995 NCAA Tournament.

As a player, Welch spent three seasons at the University of Nevada and transferred to UNLV for his senior year. Welch played under Tarkanian for one year when the Rebels compiled a 33-5 record and advanced to the third round of the NCAA Tournament.

Welch was born on Feb. 17, 1963 in Portland, Maine. He attended Ranch High School in Las Vegas where he was an All-State selection. John and his wife, Jean, have a daughter, Haley, and a son, Riley.

BILL BRANCH

ASSISTANT COACH/DIRECTOR OF SCOUTING

Bill Branch, 39, begins his 19th year in the NBA and starts his fourth season as assistant coach/director of scouting for the Nuggets. Regarded as one of the NBA's top advance scouts, Branch is responsible for the preparation of all game plans and reports as well as assisting in practices.

In addition to those duties, Branch oversees the team's pro personnel scouting, including the CBA and NBDL.

Branch is in his ninth season with Denver after starting his career with the Charlotte Hornets in 1987 as the expansion team's first intern. The North Carolina-native spent 10 seasons on the Hornets basketball operations staff, working with general managers Allan Bristow, Dave Twardzik and Bob Bass. An administrative assistant in the player personnel department from 1987-90, Branch designed the team's first computerized scouting database. He was promoted to scout for the '90-91 season and completed his tenure with the club as its director of scouting from '95-97, managing the day-to-day operations of the club's scouting department as well as overseeing the team's computerized and video scouting services. During Branch's years in the personnel department, the Hornets drafted Alonzo Mourning, Larry Johnson and Kendall Gill.

Branch graduated from Lenoir-Rhyne College in 1988 with a degree in sports management. He and his wife, Monicah, live in Denver and are expecting their first child.

JIM GILLEN

ATHLETIC TRAINER

One of the top athletic trainers in the NBA, Jim Gillen is in his 15th season with the Nuggets. He is responsible for the treatment and rehabilitation of all injuries, in conjunction with the team's medical staff.

In addition, he serves as the team's travel coordinator and works closely with Strength and Conditioning Coach Steve Hess to monitor the Nuggets' workout regimen and diet.

Gillen traveled across town in 1991 to join the Nuggets after serving as the assistant athletic trainer for the Denver Broncos from '87-90. During his tenure with the Broncos, Gillen accompanied the team to three Super Bowls. He and Broncos Head Athletic Trainer Steve Antonopulos were named the NFL's Athletic Training Staff of the Year in '87.

Prior to joining the Broncos, Gillen was an athletic trainer for the AMI/Denver Broncos Sports Medicine Clinic in 1987 and served as the head athletic trainer at Overland High School from '82-86 and Aurora Central High School from '80-82.

After receiving his bachelor's and master's degrees from Fort Hays State (Kan.), Gillen was the head athletic trainer at Roosevelt High School in San Antonio before moving to Denver.

A member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and the American College of Sports Medicine, Gillen is a past president of the Colorado Athletic Trainers Association. He is also past Chairman of the NBA Athletic Trainers Association and is a recipient of the National Athletic Trainers Association 25 Year Award.

Gillen has served as an athletic trainer at three NBA All-Star Games, working the 2005 (Denver) and 2003 (Atlanta) contests as the head trainer for the Western Conference and the 1995 game in Phoenix as an assistant.

In 2002, he was honored with the Joe O'Toole NBA Athletic Trainer of the Year Award and was an athletic trainer for USA Basketball at the 2002 World Championships in Indianapolis.

Gillen established the Excellence in High School Athletic Training Award in 2003 given annually to the top high school athletic training program in Colorado. The recipient receives a monetary donation for supplies and equipment and is recognized at a Nuggets home game.

A native of Meade, Kan., Gillen and his wife, Dawn, reside in Centennial. Their family includes daughter Jamee Ulitzky, her husband Josh and their sons Joey and Jordan; son J.D., his wife Emily and their daughter Alexsis and Aspen; and daughters Amanda and Rachel.

STEVE HESS

ASSISTANT COACH/STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Keeping the Nuggets in top physical shape is the job of Steve Hess, the team's assistant coach/strength and conditioning. Hess oversees the team's weight training, conditioning, stretching and nutritional programs. He designed and arranged the Nuggets' sparkling weight room in the Pepsi Center and also designed functional pieces unique to the Denver Nuggets.

In his ninth season with the Nuggets, Hess creates and administers individual workout programs for each player throughout the entire year. He spends the majority of the off-season working with the Nuggets players as well as other professional athletes, overseeing every aspect of their workout programs. He pushes them to reach their peak physical condition.

Hess came to the Nuggets from Greenwood Athletic Club in Greenwood Village, Colo., where he was the director of personal training. In that role, he was responsible for the entire fitness regimen for the personal training department and a staff of 25 personal trainers. Hess had worked at the health club since '94

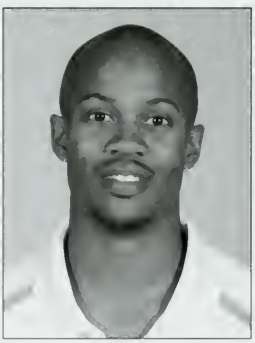
Hess is a spokesman for Eating for Life and Makota. He is one of the few conditioning experts to have an endorsement contract with these companies. In addition, Hess has had much television experience and has been featured on NBA Inside Stuff and on The Eating Network. He also has his own workout segment on the Altitude Sports and Entertainment Network.

A graduate of Ithaca College (N.Y.), Hess received a master's degree in physical education with an emphasis on sports medicine and a bachelor's degree in exercise science fitness and cardiac rehabilitation in '91.

Hess lives to obtain peak performance in his own life. His wife, Alicia, is also a conditioning expert and the couple spends their time chasing their two sons, Jordan and Korey, around their home.

DERRICK FITTS

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER & PRACTICE FACILITY MANAGER



Derrick Fitts begins his second year as assistant athletic trainer after joining the training department in the summer of 2004. In this role, he assists Jim Gillen with all the aspects of the training room and is responsible for the care of the Nuggets practice facility.

Fitts joined the Nuggets from the University of Colorado after a one-year stint working primarily with the men's basketball and men's tennis teams. Prior to his tenure with Colorado, Fitts worked at Kansas State University, where he worked mainly with the women's basketball program but also had other responsibilities that included football as well as supervising student training staff.

Fitts earned his bachelor's degree in exercise and sports science, with an emphasis in athletic training, from the University of Florida in 1999. He completed 1,500 hours of work as a student trainer at Florida, including working national title games in football for both the 1996 and 1997 seasons.

He received his graduate degree in kinesiology in 2000 from the University of Northern Colorado, working as a graduate assistant trainer while he earned his master's. He also spent four summers as a student athletic trainer intern with the NFL Denver Broncos.

Fitts graduated from Heritage High School in Littleton, Colo., where he lettered in wrestling (four times), football (twice) and track (twice). He is married to the former Laura Jo Swanson, and they have a daughter, Crystal Ann-Marie (7) and son D.J. (2).

SPARKY GONZALES

EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Sparky Gonzales enters his 8th year as equipment manager, but his history with the Nuggets goes back much further than that. Gonzales enters his 29th year of service with the Nuggets, having served in a variety of capacities.

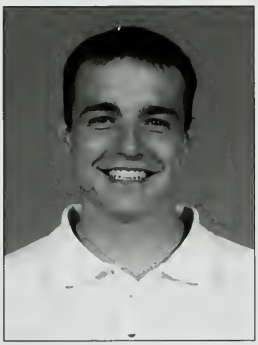
In 1977, Gonzales joined the Nuggets performing part-time locker room and bench security. He served as equipment manager from 1989-91.

From 1992 until his hire in 2001, Gonzales assisted the Nuggets media relations department as a jack-of-all-trades on game nights. As equipment manager, Gonzales orders and maintains all of the team's equipment at home and on the road.

The Denver native and his wife Tammy were married in 1998. Gonzales enjoys fishing, camping and golfing in his spare time.

GREG KNIGHT

MANAGER



Manager Greg Knight is entering his seventh season with the Nuggets. At 28 years old, Knight is already an integral part of the Nuggets front office, serving as the Team's "capologist."

Knight is responsible for drawing up player contracts, managing the salary cap, and interpreting and applying the provisions of the NBA Collective Bargaining Agreement and various League rules. Knight also actively communicates with the NBA legal team on numerous issues and assists Kiki Vandeweghe in monitoring other teams' salary cap positions.

Majoring in business, Greg graduated from Kutztown University in Kutztown, Penn. During his time at the university, Knight was a three-year varsity letter winner and state finalist for the KU Men's Tennis Team.

Aside from working during the day, Knight is a law student in the evening division at the University of Denver, School of Law and he is also a member of the DU Sports and Entertainment Law Society.

He and his wife, Carrie, were married in May 2004 and reside in Denver.

ADMINISTRATION

KROENKE SPORTS ENTERPRISES

Kroenke Sports Enterprises is the Rocky Mountain West's leading provider of sports and live entertainment. Serving more than one million fans each year, Kroenke Sports and its partners operate a variety of venues that serve an array of entertainment options.

NBA DENVER NUGGETS

For more than 25 years, the Denver Nuggets have represented the city and the region in the National Basketball Association. The Nuggets are the oldest NBA team in the mountain states region and the team has produced a number of All-Stars and Hall-of-Famers.

NHL COLORADO AVALANCHE

The two-time Stanley Cup Champion Colorado Avalanche has been in Denver since 1995. Formerly the Quebec Nordiques, the Avalanche continues to build on the current NHL record for consecutive sold-out games.

AFL COLORADO CRUSH

Colorado was awarded an Arena Football League franchise in 2001. A partnership between Kroenke Sports Enterprises, legendary Denver Broncos quarterback John Elway and Denver Broncos owner Pat Bowlen, the Crush played its inaugural season at Pepsi Center in 2003.

NLL COLORADO MAMMOTH

The Rocky Mountain Region gained its first National Lacrosse League team in 2002 when the Washington Power moved to Colorado. Owned by Kroenke Sports, the team's inaugural season at Pepsi Center concluded with an Eastern Division Championship.

CENTRIX GRAND PRIX OF DENVER

More than 100,000 race fans jammed the grounds of Pepsi Center for the annual Centrix Grand Prix of Denver. The three-day Labor Day weekend event features a combination of lifestyle exhibits, races, concerts and the CART race grand finale.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Located just off of downtown Denver's 16th Street Mall, the Paramount Theater remains one of Denver's loveliest and most unique buildings. After more than 65 years, the Paramount is the only one of Denver's original movie palaces still in operation. Kroenke Sports has committed to a 10-year plan for renovating and restoring the theater to its original grandeur. In addition to films, the Paramount also hosts a variety of concerts and performances.

UNIVERSAL LENDING PAVILION

Located on the grounds of Pepsi Center, Universal Lending Pavilion is Denver's only urban outdoor amphitheatre. The 5,500 seat venue has hosted a variety of performers including Barry Manilow, Natalie Cole, John Mayer, David Bowie and Elvis Costello.

MLS COLORADO RAPIDS

The Colorado Rapids have represented Denver's Major League Soccer fans since 1996. Boasting playoff-contending teams and one of Denver's most impressive home records, the Rapids continue to build excitement for soccer in the Rocky Mountain West. Kroenke Sports has announced plans to build a new stadium for the Rapids, along with a number of soccer fields for players of all abilities, tentatively scheduled to open in 2006.

ALTITUDE SPORTS AND ENTERTAINMENT

Altitude Sports and Entertainment is the Rocky Mountain West's newest sports network and is the official television of the Denver Nuggets, Colorado Avalanche, and Colorado Mammoth. Altitude also will broadcast Sky Sox baseball, and select games of the Air Force Falcons, Big Sky Conference and other college teams. Altitude Sports serves an 11-state region.

PAUL ANDREWS

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT CHIEF MARKETING OFFICER

Paul Andrews was promoted to Executive Vice President in April 2005. As Executive Vice President, Andrews works with KSE President, Stan Kroenke on the duty of overseeing day to day business operations of Kroenke Sports Enterprises, which includes: Denver Nuggets, Colorado Avalanche, Colorado Rapids, Colorado Mammoth, Colorado Crush, Pepsi Center, Universal Lending Pavilion and historical Paramount Theatre located in Downtown Denver. As Chief Marketing Officer, Andrews directly oversees the Ticket Sales, Service and Operations departments as well as Creative, Marketing, and Corporate Sponsorship departments.

Andrews began his career in professional sports with the Denver Nuggets as an Account Executive in September, 1990. Demonstrating his desire to learn other facets of the industry, he was put in charge of directing game operations in addition to his sales duties in 1991. Continuing his climb up the Nuggets hierarchy, he was promoted to Ticket Sales Manager in 1994. Due to his efforts the Nuggets had their most successful sellout streak in franchise history, numbering 56 games during the course of the 1994-95 and 1995-96 seasons.

When it was announced that the Quebec Nordiques would be moving to Denver in 1995-96 to become the Colorado Avalanche, new challenges arose for Andrews. He is credited with designing and instituting the initial seating plans, innovative group sales programs as well as advanced development of targeted telemarketing for season ticket sales. His knowledge and experience is readily apparent as it has produced the longest current NHL sellout streak which stands at 439 games entering the 2005-06 season.

A native of Colorado, Paul is a 1983 graduate of Alameda High School and went on to earn his B.A. in marketing at the University of Wyoming. He and his wife, Marlie, reside in Arvada with their two sons, Aaron and Trace.

DOUG ACKERMAN

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, VENUES

Doug Ackerman joined the Pepsi Center in 1999 following nine years with Ascent Entertainment Group's corporate accounting department.

Ackerman is responsible for all aspects of the Pepsi Center. He oversees financial reporting, financial transactions, budget preparations and all Pepsi Center operations from booking to day to day management of the facility.

Ackerman is responsible for the KSE investment in the Paramount Theatre and the Universal Lending Pavilion.

Ackerman is overseeing the construction of the KSE investment in the Prairie Gateway Complex in Commerce City. Prairie Gateway will include a new soccer stadium which will be the home of the Colorado Rapids MLS team. The stadium will hold approximately 20,000 fans and have a 25,000 seat capacity for concerts. The stadium will be surrounded by 24 youth fields and over 200 acres of retail development.

Prior to his work with Ascent, Ackerman worked for seven years with Ernst & Young. Ackerman graduated from Ohio Northern University and subsequently earned his CPA Certificate.

He and his wife, Trish, reside in Parker with their three children, Ashley, Steven and Ian.

MIKE BENSON

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, BUSINESS AFFAIRS AND TREASURER

Mike Benson joined Kroenke Sports Enterprises in 1999 following three years with Ascent Entertainment Group.

Benson is currently responsible for all treasury, cash management, risk management, 401k and insurance for the company and heads work on business development and special event projects. Benson led Kroenke Sports' efforts on the 2001 NHL All-Star Game as well as the 2002 and 2003 Grand Prix of Denver.

With Ascent, he was involved in corporate finance and insurance as the Manager of Finance. His experiences there were widely diverse. They included motion picture financing and insurance, private placement of revenue backed financing bonds and insuring the construction of the Pepsi Center. Prior to joining the company, Benson worked in the finance and planning departments of Pulte Mortgage Corporation for four years.

Born in Eugene, Ore., Benson holds an undergraduate degree in finance from the University of Arizona (1991) and a graduate degree in finance from the University of Colorado (1996) and is a Certified Cash Manager (CCM). He is a member of Association of Financial Professional and the Risk and Insurance Management Society. He and his wife, Laura, reside in Parker with their three daughters Carolyn, Meredith and Hailey.

MARK WAGGONER

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, SPORTS FINANCE

Mark Waggoner is responsible for all of the financial reporting aspects of the Denver Nuggets and Colorado Avalanche in conjunction with the NBA and NHL in his role as Senior Vice President, Sports Finance.

Waggoner oversees all financial transactions for both franchises and is responsible for developing and maintaining budgets, working with the teams on matters involving insurance and other benefit programs, in addition to the responsibilities of reporting from human resources and IT.

Waggoner originally joined the Denver Nuggets in 1986 as the organization's accountant following five years of service in the public accounting profession in Denver. He was then promoted to his current position in 1992. Mark also serves as the Treasurer for the Colorado Avalanche and Denver Nuggets Community Funds.

A native of Ann Arbor, Mich., Waggoner graduated from Central Michigan University in 1980 with a B.A. in Business Administration. He proceeded to earn his CPA Certificate in 1982. He and his wife, Janeen, reside in Littleton with their daughter Rylee.

DEB DOWLING-CANINO

VICE PRESIDENT, COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Deb Dowling-Canino returned to Kroenke Sports Enterprises in 2002 as Vice President of Community Relations. Previously she served as Special Events Director for the Denver Nuggets and Colorado Avalanche from 1993-96. Her responsibilities include community involvement and initiatives for all KSE entities.

Dowling-Canino's professional career has included media stints at KHOW and KWBZ Radio as public service, promotion and programming director. She owned and operated Abracadabra Events, an event production company whose clients included The International at Castle Pines, Colorado Department of Local Affairs, Colorado Special Olympics, Metro State College, Downtown Denver Partnership and Colorado Broadcaster's Association. In the non-profit sector she has worked with the March of Dimes, AMC Cancer Research Center and Colorado Sports Hall of Fame.

From 1996-00 Dowling-Canino and her Master Chef-husband Roland Canino owned and operated the highly acclaimed Canino's Trattoria.

Her personal involvement with non-profit and civic organizations in Denver has included volunteer leadership roles with Colorado Special Olympics, ALS Association, Junior League of Denver, Central City Opera, Denver Baseball Commission, Colorado Tourism Board, First Plymouth Congregational Church and others.

A native of Colorado, Dowling-Canino graduated from Colorado State University with a degree in Technical Journalism.

DAVE JOLETTE

VICE PRESIDENT, GENERAL MANAGER, PEPSI CENTER

Dave Jolette has been running the day-to-day operations of the Pepsi Center since the building opened in the fall of 1999 and enters his seventh season in that role. He was named Vice President in May of 2003.

Jolette and his staff oversee the roughly 180 annual events that take place at Pepsi Center, as well as the Universal Lending Pavilion and Paramount Theatre. All told, his staff helps put on almost 300 events in a given year.

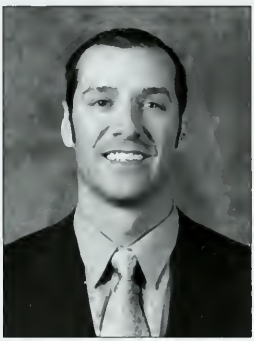
During his tenure at Pepsi Center, Jolette, 40, has helped stage the 2001 NHL All-Star Game and 2005 NBA All-Star Game, as well as NCAA Regional basketball tournaments and the Denver Grand Prix race every August. Overall, this marks Jolette's 11th year with the Nuggets and Avalanche, as he was hired as the event manager for McNichols Sports Arena in 1995. He was also in charge of event operation for both the Denver Coliseum and Red Rocks. He joined Kroenke Sports six months before the Pepsi Center opened.

After getting his bachelor's degree from California State-Chico in 1987, Jolette operated his own business in California for several years before pursuing a graduate degree in facilities management at the University of Michigan. He joined the McNichols Arena staff after graduating from Ann Arbor in 1995.

An avid sports and fitness enthusiast, Jolette competed in the Iron Man triathlon competition in Boulder this past year. He and his wife, Stacy, have a daughter, Nicole (14) and a son, Ryan (11), and make their home in Denver.

MIKE KUROWSKI

VICE PRESIDENT, CORPORATE SALES AND PARTNERSHIP MARKETING



Mike Kurowski is entering his 11th season with the organization. He began his ascent as an Account Executive selling and servicing partners for the Denver Nuggets.

Soon after his arrival, the corporate sales group was challenged to create a solid sponsorship base for the Colorado Avalanche. While Kurowski and the rest of the sponsorship group exceeded expectations, the next hurdle was to prepare for the opening of the Pepsi Center doors in 1999.

During this time, and leading up to Kurowski's new role within Kroenke Sports as Director of Corporate Sales in October 2001, his sales skills consistently placed him at the top of the department. During his time spent in the director's chair he led the charge in promoting the Colorado Crush and Colorado Mammoth in their successful inaugural seasons as well as sponsorship efforts for the newly acquired Colorado Rapids. Last year, he was promoted to his current role of Vice President. Kurowski's team consists of a solid group of sales and service professionals with a tremendous amount of inventory and demanding responsibilities ahead. Prior to his time spent with Kroenke Sports, his experience as an Account Executive was fined tuned with a Florida based advertising agency. His abilities helped land several key accounts that ultimately led to his hiring with the Nuggets and his relocation back to Denver.

A native of Colorado, Kurowski grew up in Littleton and attended Columbine High School. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin Green Bay and currently resides in Denver with his wife, Christy and their three boys, Cason, Kade, and Camden.

SHAWN STOKES

VICE PRESIDENT, VENUE PROJECTS-KSE AND VICE PRESIDENT, BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT-OPERA SHOP, INC.

Shawn Stokes joined the Pepsi Center in 1999 as Director of Production. In September, 2003 he was promoted to his current title of Vice President, Venue Projects. In 2004, Stokes was at the center of the Opera Shop acquisition by Kroenke Sports Enterprises and took a position inside the company as Vice President of Business Development.

Prior to joining the Pepsi Center, Stokes was a Promoter Representative for House of Blues as well as Universal. Before becoming a Promoter Representative, Stokes was a Stage Rigger and Carpenter for many big name artists including; Sinead O'Connor, Peter Gabriel, Lenny Kravitz and Stereo MC's and many other live music and theatrical projects.

Stokes's education and training in stage craft and rigging has led him to design and build many unique projects worldwide.

Stokes successfully graduated Master Rigging and Staging schools offered by sanctioned international theatrical bodies. After receiving his master riggers certification in 1995, he also received his field repair certificates that can be applied to many common stage devices. Stokes then began consulting and educating prospective riggers and stage workers for large scenic companies, labor providers and lighting companies. Furthermore, Stokes has consulted in "difficult situation" executions as well as risk management and risk reduction in the work place. Born in Albuquerque, N.M.

VICE PRESIDENT, NEW BUSINESS OPERATIONS

As the Vice President for New Business Operations for Kroenke Sports, Wright is responsible for analyzing new investments and overseeing new business operations for KSE.

He is also the CFO of The Kroenke Group, a holding company that includes ownership of several sports franchises, cultural and entertainment activities and real estate holdings.

Wright is the Chief Operating officer and General Manager for the Colorado Rapids, and serves on the MLS and SUM Board of Governors as well as several Board committees. Wright also serves on The NLL Board of Governors representing the Colorado Mammoth and is a member of the Expansion Committee and Chairman of the NLL Finance Committee.

He also has overseen the operations of the Blue Sky Grill at The Pepsi Center and serves on the Budget Committee for the US Soccer Federation.

Previously, he spent over 20 years as an outside professional financial advisor, including over 14 years as a partner with Ernst & Young. Wright possesses a wealth of financial management and merger and acquisition experience, particularly with respect to sports franchises and arenas, and was instrumental in deals which led to the acquisition of the Montreal Canadiens, Colorado Avalanche, Washington Capitals, Pittsburgh Penguins, Vancouver (currently Memphis) Grizzlies, Denver Nuggets, Washington Wizards and the facilities used by those teams. Wright is also a shareholder and officer of an indoor soccer franchise playing in the MISL.

A frequent speaker on mergers & acquisitions and sports industry subjects, Wright has written over 20 articles for professional publications on a wide range of topics. He also holds several professional certifications (CPA, CMA, CIRA, CMC) and belongs to a number of professional organizations.

His educational credentials include a Bachelor of Arts degree, cum laude, from Duke University and an MBA in Finance and Accounting from the Owen Graduate School of Management at Vanderbilt University, where he received the Faculty Award for Distinguished Achievement. He has also served on the Board of Trustees of several charitable organizations, and is currently on the Board of the Mile High United Way.

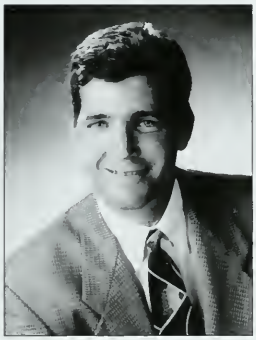
DENVER NUGGETS

MEDIA INFORMATION

JERRY SCHEMMEL

RADIO BROADCASTER



Since 1992, Nuggets fans have enjoyed the exciting and polished delivery of Jerry Schemmel, one of the top play-by-play announcers in the NBA.

Schemmel came to the Nuggets from the Minnesota Timberwolves, where he was the team's announcer on cable television telecasts from 1990-92.

Other professional basketball experience includes a year as the deputy commissioner and legal counsel for the Continental Basketball Association (1989) as well as four seasons as the marketing director and radio/television voice of the Kansas City/Topeka Sizzlers (1985-89).

Additionally, he was an announcer for CBA contests on ESPN and served as a backup announcer on several broadcasts for the Colorado Rockies baseball team. Schemmel has called action for several track and field championships and other sporting events.

A licensed attorney, Schemmel received his juris doctorate from Washburn University (Kan.) in 1985 and practiced law in Topeka from 1985-89. While attending law school, he was an assistant baseball coach for the Ichabods and was the school's play-by-play announcer for football and basketball.

He received his bachelor's degree in radio and television broadcasting from Washburn in 1982 and was a two-year letterman on the school's baseball squad.

Schemmel is the author of the book, "Chosen to Live", which chronicles his survival of United Airlines Flight 232, which crashed in Sioux City, Iowa, on July 19, 1989.

Schemmel is also a nationally-known motivational speaker, delivering inspirational talks involving his survival of Flight 232.

During the summers of 2003 and 2004, Schemmel rode a bicycle across the United States, a distance of nearly 7,000 miles as a fundraiser for two Denver area charities. The efforts raised a total of $245, 000.

A native of Madison, S.D., Schemmel and his wife, Diane, reside in Littleton with their daughter, Maggie and son, Ryan.

CHRIS MARLOWE

TELEVISION PLAY-BY-PLAY

Chris Marlowe is one of America's most versatile television sports broadcasters and begins his second year as the television play-by-play voice of the Nuggets on Altitude.

A veteran of five consecutive Olympic telecasts on NBC, Marlowe called play-by-play for NBC's coverage of Beach Volleyball at the 2004 Summer Olympics in Athens, Greece. Prior to coming to Denver, Marlowe called PAC 10 Basketball for Fox Sports Northwest in addition to handling USC Trojan play-by-play duties for Fox Sports West.

Marlowe also has called PAC10 College Football play-by-play for FOX Sports Northwest, NCAA College Basketball on ESPN and FOX, San Diego State Basketball and WUSA Soccer for San Diego's Cox Cable, AVP Professional Beach Volleyball for NBC, college volleyball for CSTV, and NCAA Championships in swimming, diving, gymnastics and volleyball for ESPN.

In his announcing career, Marlowe has called a number of other sports, including aerobics, baseball, boxing, cliff-diving, equestrian show jumping, fencing, poker, rhythmic gymnastics, skiing, college soccer, track and field, water polo, wind surfing and wrestling. He also has hosted sports programs such as the "UCLA Sports Magazine" for Prime Sports, the "Just for Kicks" soccer show on ESPN, the "Marlowe Minute" for "Dig Magazine" on Fox Sports West and "Aztec Sports Weekly" for Cox Cable.

Prior to his announcing career, Marlowe excelled at athletic competition.

He began as a two-sport standout at Pacific Palisades High School in Los Angeles, Calif. Marlowe went on to play basketball and volleyball at San Diego State University (SDSU) and was the starting setter on SDSU's only NCAA Championship team – the 1973 men's volleyball team. In 1976 and 1978 he was voted the Most Valuable Player by USA Volleyball. On the beach, Marlowe won eight tournaments, including the 1977 World Championship and two prestigious Manhattan Beach Opens. Marlowe's athletic career culminated as captain of the gold medal-winning United States Olympic Volleyball team in 1984.

The athletic honors continued with his induction into both the San Diego State Aztec Hall of Fame and the California Beach Volleyball Hall of Fame in 1994.

Marlowe has also found time to pursue an acting career. His movie credits include "Rollerball", "Rounders," "Look Who's Talking 2," "The 6th Man," and "Side-Out." Early in his career he guest starred on TV's "Love Boat," "A Man Called Sloan," "Highcliffe Manor," and "Bosom Buddies." Marlowe also spent one year as a regular on the daytime soap opera "Love of Life" in 1978.

In the offseason, he resides in Denver, with his wife and two daughters.

SCOTT HASTINGS

TV ANALYST

Providing insight on Nuggets telecasts for the seventh-straight season will be Scott Hastings. Hastings has been broadcasting NBA games since 1993, including 11 seasons with Denver and four seasons with TNT.

An 11-year veteran of the NBA, Hastings was a member of the 1989 league champion Detroit Pistons and played for Denver from '91-93. A four-year letterman at Arkansas, Hastings was named Honorable Mention All-American as a senior in '82 and left as the school's second all-time leading scorer behind Sidney Moncrief with 1,779 career points. He was also recently inducted into the University's Sports Hall of Fame.

Originally drafted by the New York Knicks with the 29th selection of the 1982 NBA Draft, Hastings also played professionally for Atlanta and Miami in his career.

One of the most well-known media personalities in the Denver market, Hastings co-hosted a daily sports talk radio show for 12 years. In addition, he served as the color analyst for the Denver Broncos for eight seasons including both Super Bowl campaigns. It is believed that he is the only person in existence to possess two Super Bowl rings and an NBA Championship ring. He coached the Arapahoe High School girls basketball team for two seasons compiling a 34-12 record.

A native of Independence, Kan., Hastings resides in Littleton with his wife, Judi, and their daughters Ashley (20), Allison (17) and son Andrew (12).

JASON KOSMICKI

EXECUTIVE PRODUCER/STUDIO HOST, NUGGETS RADIO

Jason Kosmicki enters his 10th season with Kroenke Sports Enterprises and serves as the Executive Producer and Studio Host for Nuggets radio broadcasts. Kosmicki has on occasion covered play-by-play duties for Jerry Schemmel on Nuggets broadcasts and served as the play-by-play voice of the Colorado Rapids in 2004. He can also be seen weekly on Altitude on the "Altitude Summit".

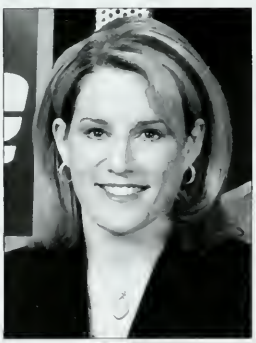
Kosmicki joined KSE in October of 1996 after stints in Eau Clarie, Wis., Washington D.C., Houston and Colorado Springs.

"Koz," who is fluent in German, earned a degree in broadcast production and German translation while serving as sports director at the local radio station at his alma mater, Nebraska-Kearney. While in college, he called games for numerous sports, including football and basketball.

Kosmicki enjoys golfing and fishing. The Nebraska native follows his home state Cornhuskers and resides in Northglenn with his daughter Jacque.

JULIE BROWMAN

SIDELINE REPORTER



Julie Browman begins her second season as sideline reporter for Nuggets telecasts on Altitude.

Browman joined Altitude from KGTV in San Diego where she served as weekend sports anchor. She began her career in radio as a producer for the Sports Zoo at KOA in Denver and was on air at XTRA radio in San Diego.

The Colorado native earned a bachelor's degree in journalism at the University of Kansas. She enjoys hiking, biking and skiing in her spare time.

MEDIA INFORMATION

Welcome to the 2005-06 season, the Nuggets seventh at Pepsi Center. This is the Nuggets 30th season in the NBA and 38th season in Denver - we continue to strive to provide the media with a professional atmosphere to cover our games. For your benefit, please read through the following guidelines and please contact us at (303) 405-1100 if there is any way we can assist you in your coverage of the Nuggets this season.

PEPSI CENTER

Pepsi Center is located just off Interstate 25 at the Speer (South) or Auraria Parkway exits. The mailing address is: 1000 Chopper Circle, Denver, Colo. 80204 Pepsi Center is approximately 35 minutes from Denver International Airport.

PRESS CREDENTIALS

Application for all credentials must be made through the Nuggets Media Relations Office. Requests for single game media credentials must be made at least 24 hours in advance and on Fridays for Sunday games. NO DAY OF GAME CREDENTIAL REQUESTS WILL BE HONORED, WITH NO EXCEPTIONS. Radio stations, television stations, magazines and weekly newspapers will be accommodated on a game-by-game, space-available basis. When applying for the first time, requests from magazines and weekly newspapers must be in writing on company letterhead and must include copies of the publications (if applicable). Those with season credentials who will cover specific games must call the Nuggets Media Relations Office to arrange for seating. CREDENTIALS MUST BE VISIBLE TO SECURITY STAFF AT ALL TIMES.

PRESS SEATING

Press seating at Pepsi Center is located in three areas - courtside, the table on the baseline near the visitor's bench, and the press box on the sixth floor. The Nuggets regular broadcasters, traveling media and the visiting team's media will be seated courtside on press row We will accommodate other media personnel there when possible, but space is rarely available. The other press area is in the press box on the sixth floor -
a representative of the Nuggets Media Relations Office will be present and assign seating

PRESS PARKING

Press parking will be Lot E on the East side of Pepsi Center. From Speer, enter Pepsi Center at Chopper Circle. Lot E will be the first lot on your right. From Auraria Parkway, enter Pepsi Center at 9th Street. Follow the circular drive to the right and proceed to the East side of the arena. Turn left just past the Valet Lot. Lot E will be on your right.

PRESS ENTRANCE

The press entrance is on the East side of the arena From Lot E, walk straight towards the arena through the Valet Lot. There is a set of green doors adjacent to the loading docks. The green doors are located between the main East entrance (large glass structure) and the loading docks, although they are closer to the docks. Media Will Call will be set up inside the press entrance. This is also the entrance for practice.

PRESS DINING ROOM

The press dining room is located in the press lounge. Food and beverages will be available to the working media two hours prior to the game through tip-off. The dining room is open for soft drinks at halftime.

WORKING PRESS ROOM

The working press room is located at court level on the West side of the arena The working press room is equipped with telephones, electrical outlets, a stats monitor and a television for media use only. We must limit access to the working press room to media members filing stories. It is impossible to accommodate family, friends and guests. The Nuggets will rely on media members to maintain a courteous, professional atmosphere in the working press room.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Credentialed photographers may shoot from the baselines of the Pepsi Center floor in designated areas only. Photographers may not block courtside signage at any time. Free-lance photographers will not be granted credentials unless they are on specific assignment from a magazine or newspaper and there is space available. The Nuggets require a letter of request from an editor to verify any credential applications by free lancers. The Nuggets ask that photographers please be considerate of season ticket holders behind them.

STATISTICAL SERVICES

Game notes and other pertinent statistical information will be in the working press room 90 minutes before tipoff. Play-by-play, quarter, halftime and final boxscore sheets will be distributed in all press areas. Out of town scores will be delivered to broadcast crews on press row and be displayed on scoreboards. Quote sheets will be available as soon as possible following the game in the press room.

INTERVIEWS

The visiting team's head coach will generally conduct post-game interviews outside the visitors locker room or in the visiting locker room's coaches lounge. Nuggets head coach George Karl will be available following a 10-minute cooling off period in the press lounge. Interviews with players are possible up to 45 minutes prior to the game. Again the Nuggets will rely on the media to maintain a courteous, professional atmosphere in the locker rooms at all times. NO AUTOGRAPHS ARE ALLOWED DURING INTERVIEW PERIODS. Failure to comply with these rules may result in the forfeiture of your credential.

PRACTICE/SHOOTAROUNDS

Nuggets practices this season will generally begin at 11 a.m. at the team's Practice Facility within Pepsi Center Shootarounds on gamedays will be at 10 a.m. Please contact the Nuggets Media Relations Office to arrange for any interview requiring one-on-one access. Media can call the Nuggets information hotline for up-to-date practice times and other information. The hotline number is 720-931-2057.

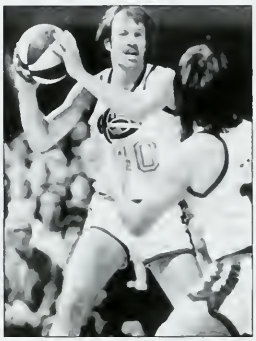
40-BYRON BECK

JERSEY NUMBER RETIRED: DEC. 16, 1977



Byron Beck's name can be found next to the word "first" in several places in the Nuggets history books. He was the first player signed by the original Denver Rockets franchise in 1967 and fittingly, his was the first number retired by the Nuggets.

Beck, who played for the Rockets/Nuggets from 1967-77, was one of the best pure shooters in ABA history, and his sweeping hook shot was a team trademark for its first 10 years.

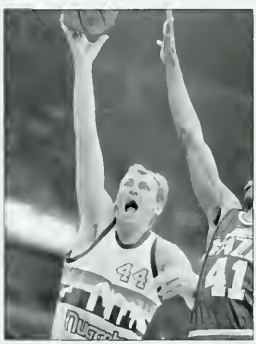
The two-time ABA All-Star (1969; '76) never averaged more than 14.5 points per game in a season; nonetheless, he stands in fifth place on the Nuggets all-time scoring list (8,603) - a true reflection of his consistency. In addition, he ranks second in rebounds (5,261) and third in games played (747).

Beck always stepped up his play at crunch time. In the 1973 ABA Playoffs, Beck averaged nearly 20 points per night. In 1976, he helped lead the Nuggets to the ABA Finals. Beck appeared in 66 playoff games with Denver, posting a 12.8 scoring average - more than a point per game more than his career regular season average.

The former University of Denver star was a fan-favorite and his work in the community earned him considerable respect off the court. Beck was the leading Nugget in personal appearances and he was the Denver sports co-chairman for Labor Day's Muscular Dystrophy Telethon.

44-DAN ISSEL

JERSEY NUMBER RETIRED: APRIL 5, 1985



The name Dan Issel became synonymous with the Denver Nuggets during his playing days from 1975-85 and it still is today. Nicknamed "The Horse", Issel is one of the most popular sports figures in Colorado history.

Issel never failed to respond when duty called and was one of the most durable players in pro basketball history. In his 15-year pro career, Issel played in 1,218 of 1,242 possible games.

When he retired in 1985, he left as the Nuggets all-time leading scorer and rebounder after notching 16,589 points and 6,630 boards. He still ranks among the top five in nearly every statistical category on the Nuggets all-time list.

One of the most prolific scorers in basketball history, Issel ranks seventh on the combined ABA/NBA all-time scoring list with 27,482 points. He trails only Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Wilt Chamberlain, Julius Erving, Moses Malone, Michael Jordan and Karl Malone.

There was more to Issel than his on the court prowess, however. He was also a leader in the community. In 1985, the Professional Basketball Writers Association of America recognized that and presented Issel with the J. Walter Kennedy Award for community service.

In 1992, Issel returned to the Nuggets, this time as their head coach. He orchestrated a tremendous turnaround, taking a club that had won just 44 games in two years prior to his arrival and leading them to the NBA Playoffs in just two seasons. He re-joined the franchise in 1998 as General Manager and subsequently served as President and Head Coach until 2001.

"The Horse", a 1976 ABA All-Star and a '77 NBA All-Star, became the first Nugget to be elected into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1993.

33-DAVID THOMPSON

JERSEY NUMBER RETIRED: NOV. 7, 1992

Before there was Michael Jordan, there was David Thompson. Nicknamed "Skywalker", Thompson dazzled Nuggets fans from 1975-82 with his incredible leaping ability, crowd-pleasing dunks and seemingly effortless scoring ability.

In his seven seasons, Thompson racked up 11,992 points - good for third on Denver's all-time scoring list. In addition, he still ranks in the top five in nearly every major scoring category in Nuggets history.

After the Nuggets acquired his draft rights in 1975, Thompson made an immediate impact. In his first year, he captured ABA and pro basketball Rookie of the Year honors after averaging 26.0 points per game. He was also named MVP of the 1976 ABA All-Star Game.

Nothing changed when the Nuggets entered the NBA. "DT" was named to the All-NBA First Team in 1977 and '78 and he made three-straight NBA All-Star appearances, earning MVP honors in the 1979 contest. He is the only player to ever be named MVP in both an ABA and NBA All-Star game.

On April 9, 1978, the 6'4" guard poured in a career-high 73 points against the Detroit Pistons. The 73 points are a Nugget single-game record and are the second-most ever scored by an individual in a non-overtime game in NBA history.

Thompson was traded to Seattle in the summer of 1982, ending his illustrious seven-year career in Denver. DT was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1996.

2-ALEX ENGLISH

JERSEY NUMBER RETIRED: MARCH 2, 1993

Alex English's career can best be summed up with one word: consistency. In 10 of his 11 seasons with the Nuggets (1979-90), English averaged better than 21 points per game. In eight of those 11 years, he scored more than 25 per game.

When he departed as a free agent in 1990, English left as the Nuggets all-time leading scorer - having notched 21,645 points - and his career average of 25.9 ppg is the best in Nuggets history. He also ranks 11th on the NBA's all-time scoring list.

The eight-time NBA All-Star is also the Nuggets career leader in games played, minutes played, field goals made, field goals attempted and assists. He ranks third in rebounds and steals.

In each of his first 10 seasons with the Nuggets, English finished among the top 10 in the NBA in scoring. In 1982-83, he became the first and only Nugget to lead the league in scoring with a 28.4 average. English also holds the distinction of leading the NBA in scoring during the decade of the '80s, after compiling 19,682 points.

A second-team All-NBA member in 1982, '83 and '86, English guided the Nuggets to Division championships in 1984-85 and '87-88.

Also a leader in the community, English was presented the J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award for community service in 1988. In 1985, he convinced NBA players to donate their shares from the All-Star game to Interaction Ethiopia, a relief fund.

He was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1997.

432-DOUG MOE

JERSEY NUMBER RETIRED: NOV. 7,2002

Doug Moe was the face and personality of the Nuggets throughout the '80s - the most successful era in club history - serving as the team's charismatic head coach from 1980-90.

On Dec. 18, 1980, Moe assumed head coaching duties following the departure of Donnie Walsh. Over the next 10 years, he racked up 432 regular season wins and 24 post-season victories - both team records. He guided the Nuggets to nine-straight playoff appearances, including a trip to the 1985 Western Conference Finals, and two Midwest Division titles in '84-85 and '87-88. In '87-88, the Nuggets won a franchise-record 54 games, earning Moe NBA Coach of the Year honors.

Moe's "passing game" offense was one of the most feared in the NBA during the '80s. The Nuggets averaged no fewer than 114.6 ppg in each of his years and averaged better than 120.0 ppg for five-straight seasons ('80-85). In fact, the Nuggets led the NBA in scoring in six of Moe's 10 years in Denver.

Moe's clubs produced 13 All-Star selections and three of his players, David Thompson, Dan Issel and Alex English have been inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame.

Affectionately known as the "Big Stiff", Moe began his career with the Nuggets in the ABA as an assistant coach on Larry Brown's staff from '74-76. During those two seasons, the Nuggets posted a 125-43 record and advanced to the 1976 ABA Finals.

He also served as head coach of the San Antonio Spurs ('76-80) and Philadelphia 76ers ('92-93) and compiled 628 career wins, the 17th-most in NBA history.

An unassuming crowd of 9,655 fans filed into McNichols Arena on Dec. 13, 1983, unaware that they were about to witness NBA history.

On this winter night, the Pistons and Nuggets battled back-and-forth in one of the most exciting games of all time. Detroit, led by All-Star guard Isiah Thomas' 47 points, overcame a horrendous night at the foul line (37-60) and outlasted the Nuggets, 186-184, in triple overtime. The game still stands as the highest scoring contest in league history.

What makes that mark even more incredible is that only two three-point field goals were made the entire night.

In all, six NBA records were broken including: most points, both teams, game (370); most points, one team, game (Detroit, 186); most players with 40-or-more-points, game (4); most field goals made, both teams, game (142); most field goals made, one team, game (Detroit, 74) and most assists, both teams, game (93).

All six still stand today.

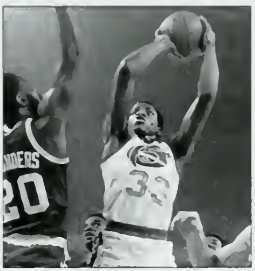
On April 9, 1978, David Thompson became just the second player in NBA history (Wilt Chamberlain) to score more than 72 points in a game as he hit for 73 against the Detroit Pistons on the final day of the regular season at Detroit's Cobo Arena.

DT broke the NBA record for points in a quarter (32 in the 1st) and field goals in a quarter (18 in the 1st).



His 73 points still stand as the most scored by an individual in Nuggets history and are the second-most (Wilt Chamberlain, 100) ever scored in a non-overtime game in NBA annals.

Despite DT's heroics, the Nuggets lost, 139-137.

DENVER NUGGETS

MISCELLANEOUS

NUGGETS NBA COMMUNITY OUTREACH

The dedication of the NBA, its teams and players to the improvement of communities around the world has a long history and tremendous reach.

The league's implementation and execution of its Read to Achieve program impacts and inspires children and their families to develop a life-long love of reading. The NBA family has placed reading and children's education at the forefront of its community work by donating millions of dollars, extensive resources and countless volunteer hours to the promotion and sponsorship of literacy initiatives. In addition, through the internationally acclaimed Basketball without Borders program, the NBA reaches people all over the world.

Through the Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA program, the NBA positively impacts millions of kids and their parents on a year-round basis by stressing fundamental basketball skill development, teamwork, sportsmanship and positive adult participation. The Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA provides a support structure that encourages participation and makes youth basketball fun and rewarding for players, coaches, officials and parents.

As the world's greatest athletes, NBA players are dedicated to the community and committed to giving back in extraordinary ways. Through their foundations, camp efforts and charitable work, they make a difference for thousands of non-profit and youth-serving organizations. Each month, the NBA honors one of its players who has achieved outstanding accomplishments in the community, with the Community Assist Award and the David Robinson plaque, which represents the standard and legacy set by the NBA Legend. Additionally, the NBA and WNBA each present an annual Sportsmanship Award to a player who best represents the ideals of sportsmanship.

In addition to youth sports and education, the NBA also supports numerous causes and organizations that positively impact communities, including but not limited to: The Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund; UNICEF; The National Wheelchair Basketball Association; The National Civil Rights Museum; Gallaudet University; The National Underground Railroad Freedom Center; and the Global Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS.

DENVER NUGGETS COMMUNITY OUTREACH

The Denver Nuggets are committed to improving the lives of children and families within Colorado through a comprehensive program of education, health and fitness, community initiatives, and special events. Our players, coaches, and staff are active participants in the community, dedicating over 1,000 hours of their time each season off the court to visiting schools, hosting youth basketball clinics, lifting the spirits of young patients in the hospital, and attending fundraising events.

COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

The Denver Nuggets are proud to support a number of youth programs that focus on education, health and fitness, and community outreach. Every year, players and coaches can be found in the classroom using basketball principles to get students excited about school and sharing their knowledge about fitness and nutrition. The programs of the Denver Nuggets include:

READ TEAM/READ TO ACHIEVE

Strives to reduce illiteracy by encouraging second and third grade students to read for 20 minutes a day for 20 days in the months of January and February. Over 200 classrooms and more than 5,000 students annually participate in the program. For more information on the Read Team please contact Lesley Linscott at llinscott@pepsicenter.com.

SETTING THE PACE

Recognizes inspirational teachers who have made a positive impact on their students, school, and community. For more information on Setting the Pace, please contact Elissa Udell at eudell@pepsicenter.com.

THE ART OF SPORT

Encourages creativity and an interest in the arts among elementary school students. More than 5,000 students participate in the program and receive sports-themed art books for coloring and drawing. For more information, on the Art of Sport, please contact Elissa Udell at eudell@pepsicenter.com.

NUGGET FOR A DAY SPONSORED BY THE CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Honors quality middle school students who demonstrate academic achievement, positive attitude, good citizenship and behavior, and community involvement.

FULL COURT PRESS

Provides high school journalism students with the unique opportunity to watch a Nuggets game from the press area and meet local sports reporters.

TEAM FIT

Encourages physical fitness among elementary school students and provides exercising and weight training tips. For more information on Team Fit, please contact Elissa Udell at eudell@pepsicenter.com.

EAT RIGHT! SPONSORED BY THE CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL AND THE COLORADO BEEF COUNCIL

Promotes healthy eating habits among middle school students by providing nutritional information and sample meal plans to help improve health and wellness. For more information on Eat Right!, please contact Elissa Udell at eudell@pepsicenter.com.

QUALITY TIME SPONSORED BY BE A FAN OF YOUR KID CAMPAIGN

Provides a forum for parents and students from several elementary schools and non-profits in Denver to spend an enjoyable evening together at a Nuggets home game at Pepsi Center. For more information on Quality Time, please contact Elissa Udell at eudell@pepsicenter.com.

DENVER NUGGETS COMMUNITY AMBASSADORS

Ambassadors are past NBA players, coaches, and referees who make special appearances in classrooms and at a variety of community events and organizations across the seven-county Denver metro area.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS

Each year, players and coaches encourage giving by promoting and participating in the following charitable events:

CHOPPER'S DINNER

The team's signature event includes dinner with Nuggets, Avalanche, Mammoth, Rapids and Crush players, coaches and management as well as interactive games and a sports and entertainment memorabilia auction. Chopper's Dinner is scheduled for March 27, 2006.

NUGGETS BOWLING BALL

Team players join fans in their annual fun and fundraising event.

THE DENVER NUGGETS COMMUNITY FUND...

The Denver Nuggets Community Fund (DNCF) is a fund of the McCormick Tribune Foundation and supports local and statewide, non-profit organizations that serve the needs of low-income children and families. Within this population, the DNCF concentrates its funding in four strategic areas: education, sports, community development, and health and well-being. Funds raised by the DNCF are matched by the McCormick Tribune Foundation at a significant percentage, increasing the dollar amount that supports local worthwhile agencies and their community programs. Since its inception, the DNCF has granted more than $22 million to over 325 non-profit agencies throughout Colorado.

"CHOPPER" TRAVAGLINI
FOUNDER OF THE DENVER NUGGETS COMMUNITY FUND

IRV BROWN

COMMUNITY AMBASSADOR

Colorado Sports Hall of Fame member, Irv Brown is entering his third season as community ambassador. Brown is a Colorado sports legend as a player, coach, referee and broadcaster.

Brown earned seven letters in football, basketball and baseball at Denver's North High School. His association with the College World Series began while he was a student at Colorado State Teacher's College (now the University of Northern Colorado). His team finished second in the nation, and later is his career, Brown was a member of ESPN's CWS inaugural broadcast team.

A tireless coach, Brown led Arvada High School to ten conference and one state football title. Additionally, he coached baseball at the University of Colorado and Metro State College and officiated at every level of basketball from grade school to the NCAA Final Four.

Brown's broadcasting career includes color commentary for numerous sporting events for ESPN radio and television, color commentary for USAFA football, a lengthy Denver radio sports talk career and he is a new member of the Altitude Sports Network broadcast team.

MARK RANDALL

Former Nugget player and coach Mark Randall serves as a Community Ambassador for the team. In this role, Randall is responsible for working with children to promote sportsmanship, teamwork and basketball.

Following his retirement in 1999, he served as college scout before working in player development.

Randall played in the NBA from 1991-95. He was drafted by the Chicago Bulls in the first round (No. 26 overall) of the 1991 NBA Draft. From 1991-93, he played for Chicago, Minnesota and Detroit. In 1993, he joined the Nuggets after being called up from the CBA. He was released by the Nuggets prior to the '94-95 season, but rejoined them once again from the CBA midway through the season. That year, he played in two postseason games as the eighth-seeded Nuggets upset Seattle in the first round and took Utah to seven games in the second. He played in the CBA in '96-97 and made the Nuggets roster following the lockout in 1999, but was waived without playing a game. For his NBA career, Randall averaged 2.6 ppg and 1.3 rpg.

The Edina, Minn. native enjoyed a storied career at the University of Kansas. He captained the 1991 Jayhawks squad that lost to Duke in the NCAA Championship game and was named to the All-Tournament Team. He redshirted his sophomore year, during which Kansas defeated Oklahoma to win the NCAA Championship. Randall finished his career as the sixth all-time leading scorer and rebounder in KU history and the all-time leader in field goal percentage in Big 8 history.

A 1986 graduate of Cherry Creek High School in Englewood, Colo., Randall earned both McDonald's and Parade All-American honors as a prep. He is a competitive golfer with a 2 handicap, and has played in the Colorado Open.

Randall resides in Highlands Ranch and has two children, Samantha and Dylan.
